While Google and Bing do a great job of delivering great search results on your Mac, they also track every search query you make, so they can target you with the advertising you see around the web.. Mar 01, 2010 In Safari, use the View menu and choose Customize Toolbar As shown below, grab the section near the bottom of the popup window and drag it to your address bar.. When you see this, let's go and it should add the Google search box back Let me know if this works for you.. 4) Click the pull-down menu next to "Search Engine:" and select your browser of choice: Google, Yahoo, Bing, or DuckDuckGo.. Alternatively, if you are searching from the actual Google website instead of Safari's address/search bar, you will need to log into your Google account and manage your history results. 773a7aa168 Grupo Rafaga Discografia Completa
